PRESS RELEASE FROM THE SOUTH AUSTRALIAN PREMIER, DON DUNSTAN.

GREEK RESTAURANT

1.3.74

Adelaide's new greek restaurant the Iliad has won high praise from the South Australian Premier, Don Dunstan.

Mr Dunstan speaking at a special social function at the Iliad Restaurant in Adelaide's Whitmore Square praised the contribution of migrant Australians in changing Australia's eating patterns.

He said the Greek contribution had been demonstrated to the full in the "excellent restaurant" that was the Iliad.

Mr Dunstan said that the Iliad's proprietor, Constantinos Bambacas, had provided Adelaide with a superb aegean setting.

The restaurant had already been a phenomenal success and would be a permanent part of the Adelaide restaurant scene.

South Australia's flexible new licensing laws enable the Iliad to take maximum advantage of outdoor and semi-outdoor eating facilities.

"It was a good and necessary change in the law and the Iliad proves that it was the right one."
